

Join Burntsand at SPTechCon in San Francisco!

Planning a migration to SharePoint Server 2010?

Attend the SharePoint Technology Conference in San Francisco, where you'll take workshops and technical classes – taught by Microsoft engineers and MVPs – that will cover the new features, present migration strategies, and much more. At SPTechCon you'll get the best information available about Microsoft's latest SharePoint technology.

Staying on SharePoint Server 2007?

Many technical classes and workshops at SPTechCon 2010 will help you get the most out of SharePoint Server 2007 – and even SharePoint Server 2003. Sessions created for SharePoint administrators, software developers, information architects and knowledge workers will ensure that you become the undisputed Master of SharePoint!

Getting started with SharePoint?

SPTechCon 2010 San Francisco offers a full-day pre-conference training workshop called "SharePoint 101", which gets you up to speed quickly. Then you can move into the general SharePoint conference with confidence, and learn the techniques needed to get your implementation off the ground.

Join us in San Francisco February 10-12, 2010. Stop by to meet some of the Burntsand team, and talk with us about your SharePoint projects and challenges.

At SPTechCon: The SharePoint Technology Conference you'll learn what you need to know today, and find out what you'll need to know tomorrow!
